Thrybergh Fullerton C of E's Behaviour Policy

Our overarching ambition is to create an inclusive school where children's behaviour is not only managed but is changed so that they become citizens that contribute positively to the communities they live in. We adopt a therapeutic approach to understand barriers children may have and empower them to take responsibility and find solutions with everyone's support.

At the heart of this policy lies our virtues

Every child deserves a champion – we will never give up on you. We want you to achieve all the goals you set yourself and more!

At Thrybergh Fullerton, we will insist that you become the best you can possibly be in every way.

We are Respectful

At Thrybergh Fullerton, we show respect by honouring and valuing others. We recognise the worth of every other person and living thing. Fundamental to this is the respect that we show ourselves; we expect everyone to do their best, in everything that they do.

We Persevere

In life, we all encounter storms - those challenging moments that test our perseverance and strength. We equip you with the necessary tools and skills to successfully navigate these storms. We recognise that no one is perfect and place a great emphasis in learning from our mistakes. We will celebrate these as learning opportunities as we move forward together.

We are Honest

Honesty is a direct reflection of our character and, in turn, our character determines our life's achievements. We recognise that honesty is not always easy: it can cause hurt and fracture relationships. As such, we put great emphasis on your inner strength and will help you to develop this further. We expect you to always show honesty and to seek the truth.

We are Courageous

We value courage. We want you to have the confidence and determination to make your own way in life. Courage requires vulnerability. At Thrybergh Fullerton, we recognise and celebrate that vulnerability and make our school a safe place for you to flourish. Our children are courageous and our classrooms are daring!

Though we seemingly hold four main virtues, this policy is underpinned by Love. Love is our golden thread that weaves its way through all that we do. We teach you to show love – to yourselves, to each other, to our communities and to all of God's creations.

To reinforce our virtues in every aspect of school life, each house represents a school value. At the beginning of every academic year, house leaders share their house virtue with the whole school community during collective worship.

Light comes through learning

Moab (Respect) Jericho (Perseverance) Hebron (Honesty) Elah (Courage)

Our school virtues apply equally to everyone involved in our school: staff, pupils, parents and visitors.

Underpinning our school virtues are three school rules which we expect our children to follow.

Our school rules are reinforced continuously by example and by a conscious policy of praise, thanks and encouragement.

Light comes through learning

Every day, in lots of different ways, our pupils ask: do I matter to you, do you notice me, do I belong here?

Yes, they do matter. Yes, we do notice them each and Yes, they do belong and we aim to show it every day.

What do we expect from our pupils?

- Children will move quietly and sensibly about the school, never running or shouting.
- Children will hold doors open for others.
- Speak politely to everyone else, using a low voice.
- Greet and welcome all adults and other children as you pass them in the corridor or on school grounds.
- Tuck chairs under their tables every time they leave their seat.
- Follow reasonable instructions given by the teacher.
- Show respect for the opinions and beliefs of others.
- Wear their uniform with pride, shirts tucked in at all times.
- Complete all class work in the manner required.
- Show respect for the working environment keeping their work space organised and clutter free.
- Keep all four legs of the chair on the floor (no swinging) (this may be challenging for certain SEND groups such as ASD and adaption is made accordingly).
- If asking a question, put hand up (no shouting out).
- Listen to someone who is speaking, looking at them (this may be challenging for certain SEND groups such as ASD and adaption is made accordingly).
- Keep the cloakroom tidy and ensure bags and lunchboxes are stored safely.
- Keep the school tidy by using bins properly including picking up all things from the floor even if they are not responsible for them.
- When out of school, whether walking locally or with a school group, we expect that children should be aware that the school's reputation depends on the way they behave.
- Follow the school rules: Be Respectful, be Ready and Be Safe.

Light comes through learning

All adults consistently and politely remind children of 'norms' when they see them not being followed.

What do we expect from staff?

- Establish the norms in and around the school with all children so everyone knows what to expect.
- Display the school rules prominently in every classroom.
- Teach expected behaviour and routines in the same way the curriculum is taught and model practice reinforcing again and again!
- Expect nothing less than high standards and expect the best with no lost learning time.
- Praise at every opportunity; immerse them in a school where good conduct is seen, recognised and expected.
- Greet and welcome all pupils individually on arrival and after lunch.
- Create a swift and purposeful start to lessons.
- Contact parents with positive messages about children's behaviour where it is above and beyond.
- Contact parents as soon as concerns arise about a child's behaviour.
- Reinforce clear expectations of behaviour.
- Deliver a suitably planned and structured lesson which meets all individual needs.
- Show respect for the working environment, keeping the classroom organised and clutter free.
- Manage class cloakrooms and reinforce expectations for shared areas in school.
- Speak politely to everyone else, using a low voice (shouting should be avoided unless a member of the school community is in danger).
- Look smart and professional.
- Raise concerns to a member of the senior leadership team with openness, honesty and integrity.
- Deal with incidents of inappropriate behaviour by following the school's procedures.
- Promote and reinforce positive behaviour in the classroom.
- Follow the school rules: Be respectful, Be Ready, Be Safe.
- Model our deeply Christian vision and aims. We expect positive habits and behaviour will be shown by all.

Light comes through learning

What do we expect from parents and carers?

Most importantly: support, understand and uphold our policy. Teaching children to take responsibility within established rules they understand is important. It helps them feel safe and grow up to be prosocial and well-rounded individuals with positive self-esteem. It prepares them for life beyond school. We ask parents to enforce the necessary rules and limits alongside the school in a firm but gentle manner. Your children will thank you for it.

- Work in partnership with staff to ensure positive behaviour is developed.
- Send children to school on time and maintain good attendance of at least 97%.
- Send children with full school PE kit (see separate policy).
- Send children to school in full agreed school uniform (see separate policy).
- Inform staff of any concerns or issues that impact on their well-being.
- Respond to concerns raised by members of staff.
- Ensure pupils come to school correctly equipped and prepared to work.
- Trust us, as a school community. Sometimes messages may be difficult to hear but please remember that we want the very best for and expect the very best from your child.
- Don't make excuses for your child's behaviour. Every child tests limits, makes mistakes and pushes the boundaries from time to time. We are not judging you.
- Hold your child to account for their behaviours and actions.
- Establish healthy routines, limits and boundaries at home to ensure they are prepared for school each day.
- Encourage and support children to complete home learning expectations.
- Follow and model the school rules: Be respectful, Be ready, Be Safe.
- We expect adults in the school to conduct themselves appropriately as role models for the children.

The school and DSAT consider any threatening, abusive or violent behaviour to be a very serious matter. This type of behaviour causes extreme distress to all concerned and it is not acceptable. Aggressive and threatening behaviour will not be tolerated on school premises. Permission to be on school premises can be withdrawn.

Recognition

Rewards

- House points are awarded for outstanding effort and exceptional quality work as well as for any child who has shown positive attitudes that go above and beyond the normal high expectation.
- During Friday celebration assembly, house leaders will announce house winners and update the leadership board. Each half term, the house with the most points is rewarded. Each member of the winning house will be awarded a house badge to wear with pride.
- House points are never taken away.
- The four houses are: Moab – Respect, Jericho – perseverance, Hebron – Honesty and Elah - Courage. School staff are also allocated a house.
- We use a house system to encourage a sense of community.
- More information about Houses can be found on our website.
- Children demonstrating positive behaviours will receive a recognition token. This is to be taken home to share with parents. Children will also receive a raffle ticket which will go into a half-termly draw.
- Recognition boards are used in classrooms to capture children demonstrating positive behaviours.

Celebration Assembly

- One child from each class will be awarded a certificate to celebrate excellent learning, work or behaviour.
- 'Thank-you' certificates are given by any adult who spot children demonstrating positive behaviours in line with the school's rules.

Other ways to recognise success

- Phone call home.
- Letter, message on Class Dojo.
- Headteacher commendation.
- Sending child to share good work/behaviour with another class/teacher/headteacher (arrange a good time).
- Work may be displayed in public areas around the school.
- Mention on the website.
- Inviting parents in to share good work after school.
- Positive comments on child's work/ behaviour.
- Publication of work.
- Verbal thanks, praise, encouragement - in private – and in public.
- Headteacher library.

Light comes through learning

Positive recognition for behaviour and learning is a focus and given priority at Thrybergh Fullerton Primary School. Rewarding good behaviour must be the norm and it is the responsibility of all adults in school. It must be remembered that good work and good behaviour go hand in hand. Raising the self-esteem of every child is a priority. Children who are appropriately challenged and experience success feel a sense of achievement, pride and self-worth. Be generous!

Dealing with unacceptable behaviour

Class time

It is the responsibility of class teachers to deal with minor incidents which occur in the classroom. Prevention is key to diffusing situations and preventing escalation. Minor incidents may include, for example: throwing paper; calling out; not following instructions; incomplete class work; lack of equipment.

- Minor incidents do not need logging unless they become persistent.

If any of the above become persistent incidents or are multiple, frequent medium severity incidents, they must be recorded and passed to the senior leadership team. Unacceptable behaviour in this category includes: persistency of minor incidents as above, rudeness to staff, verbally aggressive behaviour to another pupil, being continually off-task, verbally aggressive behaviour to another pupil.

- Medium severity incidents must be logged on CPOMS so that we can spot patterns when using a therapeutic approach.

More serious incidents can be dealt with by the teacher, but must also be recorded on CPOMS and raised with a senior leader if it is very serious. It is the responsibility of the senior leadership team to monitor pupils' behaviour across school. They will become involved if a pupil's behaviour is causing concern. They may then take appropriate action to support the class teacher.

- Class teacher to log on CPOMS and the SLT will devise a plan to support the class teacher. This may involve writing a behaviour support plan for the child.

Serious incidents include: extreme rudeness to staff, physical aggressive behaviour, refusal to comply with other sanctions, theft, bullying, racist language

- Immediately reported to the SLT and recorded on CPOMS.

If a serious incident occurred (aggression, defiance or abusive language) the above scale of sanctions may be bypassed and the Head of School or Executive Headteacher involved immediately to decide an appropriate course of action. The parents would be involved as soon as possible. If misbehaviour is persistent, then the class teacher should invite the parents into school and discuss a support plan alongside a member of the school's senior leadership team. The system needs to be applied fairly and consistently however it may look different for different children.

The school is committed to providing a safe and inclusive environment for all pupils. Any form of bullying, including cyberbullying (using digital platforms to harass, intimidate, or harm others), is strictly prohibited. Pupils must use technology responsibly and respectfully at all times. Likewise, discrimination based on race, gender, disability, religion, or any other protected characteristic will not be tolerated. Such behaviour undermines our virtues and will result in appropriate sanctions in line with this policy. All incidents will be taken seriously and addressed promptly to ensure the wellbeing of every member of our school community.

Teacher Guide

The following structure will be applied with consistency when addressing behavioural incidents in school.

1	Polite reminder
2	Consequence

When a polite reminder is given, children will receive a physical token so that they are clear a warning has been issued. If behaviours improve, the warning may be retracted. If they persist, a consequence will then be given.

Light comes through learning

If a child is not meeting the school expectations, then follow these principles to address and support the child. See below:

Step	Application	Guidance
Reminder	1st Incident – Verbal Reminder referring to the rules and clearly identifying which has not been met. This may make the difference between escalation and the child getting back to work. Delivered as privately as possible. Don't allow poor behaviour to be the focus of your class. Praise positive behaviour but do not make comparisons. No consequence for this.	I notice that you are.....(explain what it is...eg. Having trouble getting started) It was the rule about... (respect, responsibility, readiness) That you broke. You have chosen to..... Do you remember last week when you (identify a positive behaviour) and that is who/ what I need to see today. Thank you for listening. Then allow them some take up time. This is never done in a confrontational manner and will always have the children's dignity in mind.
Consequence	If the behaviour continues we expect staff to see a behaviour, see the child, gauge the context and act using professional judgement. Adults will be curious not furious about the behaviour and what the child is trying to communicate. Based on their knowledge of the child adults will use their understanding of the child, the behaviour and what is being communicated to select the most appropriate consequence. Coaching will always be a feature of this. It may be necessary to use a combination of the consequences and support below:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Sent to another classroom with work at their level to complete to give them time to calm. No blame, no judgement- this is a process. It helps to compartmentalise the incident to enable the child to move on and return after no more than 15 minutes. This is most powerful when it is in a different year group.</li> <li>• Natural consequence, for example: repair the damage, tidy up. Unfinished Work is taken home to complete.</li> <li>• Write a letter of apology only when the child understands the impact their actions/ choices had and has secure understanding of how to prevent it happening again.</li> <li>• A repair session which is restorative and aims to repair damage to relationships to understand impact of actions on others.</li> <li>• Sometime during break or lunch to complete work or reflect and think about their actions.</li> </ul>

Light comes through learning

Support Discussion	Support discussion, If any of the above have been applied then the child also needs to be kept in for 5mins of their playtime in KS1/ 10 minutes KS2 to have a support discussion. If the teacher is on duty, then discussion can take place in walking around the playground.	In order for the child and adult to understand the specific difficulties and to empower the child to engage in the problem-solving process, this allows the child the opportunity to come up with a solution for themselves. This will enable longer term changes to behaviour. This discussion needs to take place with the adult involved. A good support discussion is often structured in 5 steps: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. What's happened?</li> <li>2. What were your choices at the time?</li> <li>3. What occurred in the build-up to the incident?</li> <li>4. What have you thought since?</li> <li>5. How can we make this right now?</li> </ol>
Recording	Parents notified by the class teacher and record the incident on CPOMS.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Keep to the facts</li> <li>- Link children on CPOMS and write initials.</li> <li>- Avoid mentioning other pupils' names.</li> </ul>

Playtime and Lunchtime

Consequences for the playground should follow the same routine as the classroom.

1. Verbal reminder with an explanation of what they have done wrong linked to school rules.
2. Discussion- with staff on duty on the playground. Such incidents will be reported to a member of the senior leadership team for monitoring and possible further action.

I notice that you are.....(explain what it is...eg. Having trouble sharing with a friend, accepting the rules of the game...)

It was the rule about... (respect, resilient, honesty, courage) that you broke.

It would seem that... explain what (eg. sharing).....is hard for you.

What can you do to change this?

Light comes through learning

Do you remember when..... (you may want to identify a time when they were demonstrating the positive behaviour)

Thank you for listening.

Then allow them some take up time. Check this to make it clear.

3. Discuss issue with member of the senior leadership team who will then determine any next steps. Any follow up actions need to have minimal impact on children's learning time.

4. If the incident is serious then it may be necessary to send the pupil straight to the class teacher or senior leader on duty where they will be asked to calm and reflect. Support will follow.

Support Structures for Children Causing Concern

The following structures exist within the school to support pupils whose behaviour is causing increasing concern and previous actions have not successfully improved behaviour. This list is not exhaustive and a combination of strategies may be used tailored to individual need. In all cases parental involvement is essential.

Mentoring Scheme

Staff or older pupils within the school are used to support and encourage pupils who are not achieving their potential. They meet at allocated times.

Therapeutic analysis

This is an audit and analysis of the behaviours displayed, frequency, time, triggers and responses in order to inform an action plan.

Placement on the SEN Register

Pupils on the register are monitored by the SENCO and appropriate interventions are put in place. It may involve a referral to an outside agency.

Early Help

The school (with parents' permission) can make a referral to Early Help who will allocate a family worker who can support families and children on an individual basis.

Light comes through learning

Pupil Support Plans

These plans are for pupils whose behaviours have declined or not improved.

Pupils are involved in identifying the area of need and strategies and interventions required to change the behaviour.

Bespoke Provision

When behaviours have deteriorated to such a level that it impacts on others learning and could result in exclusion the decision may be made to remove the pupil from class for a fixed time to receive nurture and a tailored curriculum. The benefits of this are it provides continuity and connection with the school with the ultimate aim of reintegration. This is alongside an identified support plan.

There are times when all of these strategies have been used that exclusion may need to be considered. Further information can be found in our exclusion policy.

Searching and Confiscation guidance from the DFE 2018.

The Executive Headteacher, Head of School and teaching staff have a statutory power by law to search pupils or their possessions, without consent, where they have reasonable grounds for suspecting that the pupil may have a prohibited item. Prohibited items are:

Knives or weapons
Alcohol
Illegal drugs
Stolen items
Tobacco and cigarette papers Fireworks

Pornographic images

And any article that the member of staff reasonably suspects has been, or is likely to be, used to commit an offence, or to cause personal injury to, or damage to the property of, any person (including the pupil).

Confiscation

School staff can seize any prohibited item found as a result of a search. They can also seize any item, however found, which they consider harmful or detrimental to school discipline.

Schools can also search with pupil's verbal consent for any item under common law. Schools are not required to have formal written consent from the pupil for this sort of search – it is enough for the teacher to ask the pupil to turn out his or her pockets or if the teacher can look in the pupil's bag or locker and for the pupil to agree. Any banned or prohibited items found will be confiscated and any sanctions will follow the school's behaviour policy. Dependent on the items confiscated these will be returned to the parents of the child.

Light comes through learning

The use of reasonable force guidance from the DfE 2013.

At Thrybergh Fullerton, we do not advocate the use of reasonable force (restraint) but we are guided by DfE guidance and only use when absolutely necessary.

What is reasonable force?

1. The term 'reasonable force' covers the broad range of actions used by most teachers at some point in their career that involve a degree of physical contact with pupils.
2. Force is usually used either to control or restrain. This can range from guiding a pupil to safety by the arm through to more extreme circumstances such as breaking up a fight or where a student needs to be restrained to prevent violence or injury.
3. 'Reasonable in the circumstances' means using no more force than is needed.
4. As mentioned above, schools generally use force to control pupils and to restrain them. Control means either passive physical contact, such as standing between pupils or blocking a pupil's path, or active physical contact such as leading a pupil by the arm out of a classroom.
5. Restraint means to hold back physically or to bring a pupil under control. It is typically used in more extreme circumstances, for example when two pupils are fighting and refuse to separate without physical intervention.
6. School staff should always try to avoid acting in a way that might cause injury, but in extreme cases it may not always be possible to avoid injuring the pupil.

Who can use reasonable force?

- All members of school staff have a legal power to use reasonable force.
- This power applies to any member of staff at the school. It can also apply to people whom the headteacher has temporarily put in charge of pupils such as unpaid volunteers or parents accompanying students on a school organised visit.

When can reasonable force be used?

- Reasonable force can be used to prevent pupils from hurting themselves or others, from damaging property, or from causing disorder.

Light comes through learning

- In a school, force is used for two main purposes – to control pupils or to restrain them.
- The decision on whether or not to physically intervene is down to the professional judgement of the staff member concerned and should always depend on the individual circumstances.

Schools can use reasonable force to:

- remove disruptive children from the classroom where they have refused to follow an instruction to do so;
- prevent a pupil behaving in a way that disrupts a school event or a school trip or visit;
- prevent a pupil leaving the classroom where allowing the pupil to leave would risk their safety or lead to behaviour that disrupts the behaviour of others;
- prevent a pupil from attacking a member of staff or another pupil, or to stop a fight in the playground; and
- restrain a pupil at risk of harming themselves through physical outbursts
